

Abstract

5 The invention provides a novel proapoptotic inducer protein "p12", that was identified in myeloid/erythroid cytokine dependent cells, and DNA molecules encoding it. The p12 protein and DNA molecules are useful for therapy and diagnosis of conditions which are 10 associated with a deregulated apoptosis pathway and for screening compounds that modulate p12 activity.